INTERESTING TO MANY BOYS

There is No Present That Will Be So Dear to Heart as Youth as Pen of Bantam Chickens.

Whenever you see a pen of bantams shown you always hear a number of people voicing their wonder as to the utility of these small birds. Strictly speaking they are of no real use. The birds are altogether too small to be raised for the table, though they are far more tender than their larger relatives. The bantams are smaller than ever, the eggs of a Leghorn pullet and it takes about three of them to equal two ordinary eggs. Nevertheless the bantams occupy a place in the chicken world that is far more important than most people think.

They are bred for two reasons, for breeding purposes and for pets. In the former they are bred to sell for pets and so it all amounts to the same thing. As pets for children or for people who have no desire to raise chickens for practical purposes, the bantams have no superior. There is no present that will be so dear to the heart of a boy or as useful to him as a pen of bantams. Without anything to interest him at home outside of the inanimate objects of the play room, there are few boys, especially in the cities, who are not roaming around on the streets. In a pen of bantams a boy has an interest which keeps him home and keeps him busy.

ELECTRIC TOYS THAT AMAZE

Few Examples of Playthings That Will Open Eyes of Boys—Girls Also Remembered.

Some of the electrical toys now on the market are actual wonders—working models in reality of the big electrical equipments seen all about us, says the Popular Electricity. Here are a few examples which will prove to be eye-openers to a great many boys who are not in a position to visit the large electrical supply stores where such things are on exhibition:

For instance, there is a little steamship (1) complete in all its outward details, which is driven by a battery and motor concealed in its hull. It may be started, stopped or reversed from a small switchboard through a waterproof connecting cable.

Then there is a small fan (2) which is not a mere toy, but which will give a good stiff breeze. It is actuated by a substantial motor suitable for other purposes.

Electrical Toys That Are Wonders.

Street lamps with real lights (3) and (4) operate from a battery.

Complete electrically operated street cars (5) with electric headlights and any desired amount of track are obtainable, and if desired, this track may be protected by electric block signals (6).

The girls have also been remembered, and one of the things which interests them most is a complete electric range with cooking utensils which operates from the lighting circuit, and which is capable of doing real cooking.

THE CROW AND THE PITCHER.

The crow has been flying and flying all day long.
He is looking for water to drink.
"If I could only get some water," he says.
He flies first one way, then another way. But he cannot find any.
O, there is a pitcher!
There is water in it! But it is far down in the pitcher.
He puts his head in as far as he can. But he cannot get a drink.
"Fill the pitcher over," he says.
See him fly.
But he cannot fill it over.
"I must have a drink," he says. "How can I get it?"
There are some small white stones.
Look! He picked up one. He drops it into the pitcher.
Watch him pick up one after another. He drops them all into the pitcher.
The water rises higher and higher.
Now the crow can get a drink.
"Caw, caw, caw," says the wise old crow. "Where there's a will, there's a way."

CLEVER TRICK WITH FIGURES

Enjoyable Delusion May Be Sprung by Boys and Girls on Their Friends—Result Always Six.

Boys and girls who are fond of springing tricks upon their friends will enjoy the following one:

Ask some one to choose any number on the clock and add it to the number directly opposite. This is to be done to himself, not out loud. Then tell him to imagine that these two numbers are joined by a line, and that another line is drawn at right angles to the first line, so that a cross is formed.

Tell the person to add together the numbers at the ends of this and line; then to find the difference between the sum and the sum of the first two numbers. Then announce that you can tell the result. No matter what figure on the clock face has been first chosen, if the addition is correct, the result will be six. Try it.

London Slang.

If some London slang has a short life, the street sayings current for a time pass away even more quickly. Most of these, such as "Has your

BUTTERFLY IS TRANSPARENT

Prof. Beebe Describes Insect Through Whose Outstretched Wings Objects Are Clearly Seen.

In "Our Search for a Wilderness," William Beebe of the New York Zoological park, describes his first sight of the transparent butterfly—Greta oto—of British Guiana, an insect through whose outstretched wings any substance on which it rests can be clearly seen.

"As we crossed a swirling creek on the trunk of a mighty fallen tree, something fluttered ahead," he writes. "We could not see what it was. Closer we came, and still the object remained indistinct; we seemed to see a butterfly, and yet that appeared impossible. At last we marked it down on a fern frond, and crept up until our eyes were within two feet of it. Nothing was visible but the graceful lace-work of the frond, until a startling beam of sunlight struck it, and there, close before us, was a butterfly that spread fifty three inches, but was wholly transparent, save for three tiny spots of azure near the margin of each hind wing.

"As we looked it drifted to a double-headed flower of scarlet, and when it alighted, the scarlet of the flower and the green of the leaf were as distinct as if seen through thin mica, and the faint gray haze of the insect's wings was marked only by the slender venation.

AMUSING FOUR-HANDED GAME

Can Be Played With Partners or All Can Play Alone—Board Contains 100 Squares.

To make possible a four-handed game of checkers, two playing partners, or all playing their own game,

Four-Handed Checkerboard.

The board shown in the illustration has been constructed in France. The game is played with either 20, 30, 50 or 80 men, and the squares are in four different colors which divide the board diagonally into four triangles. It is well to note that the ordinary French checkerboard contains one hundred squares instead of the 64 of the American board.

YOUNG BEAVER'S DAY'S WORK

Industrious Little Animal in Regent's Park Gardens, London, Fells Tree Two Feet Thick.

A young beaver in Regent's Park Gardens, London, was once placed at work upon a tree twelve feet long and two feet six inches thick, just as the town clock sounded the hour of noon. The beaver began by barking the tree a foot above the ground.

That done he attacked the wood. He worked hard, alternating his labor with dips in his bathing pond. He labored and labored alternately until four o'clock in the afternoon, when he ate his supper of bread and carrots and predicted about in his pond until 5:30 o'clock.

Ten minutes later, when only one inch of the tree's diameter remained intact, he bore upon his work and the tree fell. Before it fell the beaver ran as men run when they have fired a blast. Then as the tree lay on the ground, he partitioned it out mentally, and again began to gnaw.

He worked at intervals all night, cut the log into three parts, rolled two of the portions into the water and reserved the other third for his permanent shelter.

How She Caught It.

A little four-year-old went to Sunday school for the first time and heard the children singing: "Once I was blind but now I can see." That afternoon her sister heard her sing: "One side was blind, but now I can see."

Patient Fishermen.

"What, giving up already, my boy?" said a gentleman to a youthful angler. "You must bring a little more patience with you another time." "I brought enough patience with me, mister, but I couldn't bring enough worms."

NEWS for the YOUNG PEOPLE

TESTING THE OPERA GLASSES

Ingenious Manner of Settling Disputes Among Boys as to the Magnifying Power.

At this time of year, when people go to the theater a good deal, boys often have disputes as to the magnifying power of the grownups' opera glasses. Here is the way they are tested.

Pick out some object with a number of equally distant lines on it. Like a brick wall, the slats on a blind, the rungs of a ladder or the clapboards on a frame house. The glass so that you look through one-half of the glass, as shown in the illustration.

Testing Opera Glasses.

Now close the left eye and get the opera glass focused on your lines. Holding your gaze steady on these lines, open your left eye and move the glass until you see the same lines with both eyes at once. With a little practice you will get used to overlapping as if you were not looking through the glass at all.

Count how many spaces you see with your left eye in the single space that you see with the eye that looks through the glass and that will be the magnifying power. In the illustration it is four times. Test as often as you can be tested in the same way. It is held very steady.

READ HUCK FINN UNDER BED

Alabama Man Relates Difficulties He Underwent to Absorb Mark Twain's Well Known Book.

Crawford T. Ruff of this city had an experience while reading Mark Twain's famous "Huckleberry Finn" which probably was never duplicated by another admirer of Clemens.

"It must have been more than thirty years ago," said Mr. Ruff, in relating the story to a party of friends, according to the Montgomery Advertiser. "When I was a small shaver. Only a limited number of copies of the book appeared with the first edition. Only one book came to the little town where I lived, but it sufficed for the entire populace. The book went the rounds, from neighbor to neighbor, and finally landed in our home. I was so absorbed in the first chapter that I started to finish it all before any one else in the family started on it.

"There was an old time bedstead in our home. The headboard was two or three feet from the window. The covering dropped to the floor on either side, so as to conceal me from view, except from the rear. I would crawl under the bed with Huck Finn, face downward, and with my head near the end of the bed so the light from the window would not be on me. In this way I finished the book before anybody else in the house got it."

Count in Their Sleep.

We are so accustomed to doing certain things by force of habit that we hardly ever stop to consider what a part it plays in our affairs. For instance: In the larger cities professional fire fighters sleep in the buildings where their fire engines and other appliances are kept. All night long the fire going may be ringing, knocking that blazes have sprung up in other parts of the town, but only one sort of ring warns the firemen that it is their time to be up and doing. Through all the other clannings of the bell they sleep comfortably; yet as soon as the number of rings strike that denotes that a fire is raging in their district the firemen instantly arouse by force of habit. While half asleep they almost leap into their clothes and finally they rush to their regular places on the engine, the hose cart or the hook-and-ladder truck. Often they do not get thoroughly awake till they are in the street and racing toward the fire, but they have done right by force of habit.

One Kind of Garters.

One day last summer little Dottie was watching her mother caping fruit. After the rubber rings had been put on several cans Dottie exclaimed: "Oh, mamma, let me put the garters on the rest of them!"

Don't Suffer!

"I had been troubled, a little, for nearly 7 years," writes Mrs. L. Fischer, in a letter from Peavy, Ala., "but I was not taken down, until March, when I went to bed and had to have a doctor. He did all he could for me, but I got no better. I hurt all over, and I could not rest. At last, I tried Cardui, and soon I began to improve. Now I am in very good health, and able to do all my housework."

TAKE
The Woman's Tonic

You may wonder why Cardui is so successful, after other remedies have failed. The answer is that Cardui is successful, because it is composed of scientific ingredients, that act curatively on the womanly system. It is a medicine for women, and for women only. It builds, strengthens, and restores weak and ailing women, to health and happiness.

If you suffer like Mrs. Fischer did, take Cardui. It will surely do for you, what it did for her. At all druggists.

Frank Bradley, a well known colored man, died at the home of his mother, Aunt Bettie Bradley, west side of town, at 10:15 o'clock last Friday morning, after an illness of some months from bone consumption. For many years he has lived in Louisville, and has been home only a few weeks. Funeral services were conducted at the A. M. E. Zion church by the pastor, Rev. C. H. Payne, at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, interment being made in Fairmount.

Mrs. J. T. Pendleton was here from Lexington on a short visit the latter part of the week.

Colley-McCracken Wedding.

Miss Bettie Colley and Mr. A. E. McCracken were married at the Games Hotel, Eddyville, on the afternoon of June 26, the Rev. J. N. Hensley performing the ceremony in the presence of a few spectators. They were unaccompanied, and only a few of their friends have been informed of the happy affair. The bride has remained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Colley, near Depoy. After August first the bride and groom will be at home in the east end. Miss Bettie Colley has been a prominent figure in the educational circles of the county, and the groom is one of our well known young business men. Both have many friends, and this announcement of their new relation will cause the extension of congratulations and best wishes.

We have received a copy of the State Fair catalog, and its contents reveal the magnitude of the exhibits contemplated this fall. Any reader who is interested should address J. L. Dent, Secretary, Louisville, Ky., and a copy will be sent free. The Fair is to be held Sept. 9-14.

Howard Mathis' Whereabouts Still Unknown.

Howard Mathis, who three weeks ago left the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Mathis, has not been heard from, though a few reports of his having been seen at various places have been investigated, but without success. A few days after the boy left a note was found, in his handwriting, saying that he was going away. It is not thought that any harm has come to the boy, but that he is all right, and has doubtless secured employment, as he was bright and capable. However, his parents are naturally deeply concerned about him, and with the hope of getting in communication with him have had the following ad. inserted in Louisville and other papers:

WANTED—HOWARD MATHIS.

Our dear boy, come home or write us at once; we are grieved and anxious about you. If you see this, we hope you will come. Your PAPA AND MAMMA
Greenville Ky., July 18, 1911

The many friends of the family are lending every aid in the effort to locate the boy, and it is hoped that soon he will be reached and induced to return.

Mr. C. M. Howard has constructed and put in operation in front of his store the mammoth fly trap that has been seen in these parts. It is a banana crate covered with fly screening, with a cone inside, on the same lines as the small sizes that for many years have been on the market. Loaded with a plate partly filled with molasses, it attracts and catches the dangerous pests by the gallon. Mr. Howard has a full supply of the crates, and offers to supply any and all persons who wish to join in the fight against the enemy.

According to the report of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, recently made public, there were almost twice as many births as deaths in the state last year, the total deaths being 30,583 and the births numbering 60,752. Of the deaths 5,230 were of children under one year, almost as many as occurred in adults 65 years and over, there being 6,880 in this class dying. Tuberculosis is still the white man's burden, this dread disease causing the death of 5,181 persons. The law has proven very beneficial in its first year's trial, and will grow in value and the appreciation of the people.

Hon. D. Ward King, of Maule, Mo., inventor of the split log drag, and a man who above any other has started the movement for good roads in America, will speak in Madisonville next Saturday, under the auspices of the Good Road Club and the fiscal court. Admission is free, and it is likely that many persons from this county will be among the vast crowd that will greet this notable speaker.

No matter what you want in sewing machine supplies you can get it from Roark.

There is a rumor that parties here are negotiating with Miller Weir for the old Weir corner. It is the plan if the property can be secured, to erect a modern building, a number of business rooms and hotel. It would be an ideal site, and would be quite an addition to the appearance of court square, while as an investment there is no doubt of its success.

Boys at Camp "Wekenboca".

A summer camp for boys, conducted by the State Executive Committee, V. M. C. A., opened for the western district on Green river, near Calhoun, Tuesday, and will continue until August 3. There will be several scores of boys in camp, and a great time is anticipated by all. Mr. Geo. T. Anderson, local secretary, and the following boys from here are in the camp, leaving Tuesday morning: Jno. Wm. Drake, Willard Kirkpatrick, J. K. Long, Talmage Rogers and Duncan Stevens.

Teachers' Institute Next Week.

The Muhlenberg County Teachers' Institute will be held here next week, beginning Monday and holding until Friday. Dr. Fred Mutchler, of Bowling Green, will be the instructor, and the sessions will be held in the circuit court room. The program as arranged promises a week of interest to everyone who attends, and those who have heard Dr. Mutchler recognize that we are fortunate to have him as the conductor, as he is one of the forces in the state.

Mr. B. A. Evans, of the National Casket Co., Louisville, was here Monday calling on the trade.

Women To Vote and Hold Office.

Under the law of Kentucky, which became effective July 13, women over 21 years old can vote in school elections and are eligible to the office of school trustee. At the annual election, to be held August 3, it is thought there will be a heavy vote polled by the women, and it is likely that many will be elected throughout the state on the board of control, and for the good of the schools, as has been shown always where women are chosen as teachers or officers.

Hon. R. Y. Thomas Speaking Appointments.

Hon. R. Y. Thomas, candidate for re-nomination on the democratic ticket for Congress, will address the voters of his home county at the following places and dates:

Monday, July 29, 7 p. m., Greenville.

Tuesday, July 30, 7:30 p. m., Hillsdale.

Wednesday, July 31, 7:30 p. m., Drakesboro.

Thursday, Aug. 1, 7:30 p. m., Cleaton.

Friday, Aug. 2, 8 p. m., Central City.

Mr. Thomas will have some things of interest to say to the people, and everyone is urged to come out and hear his account of how he has represented them during his incumbency.

Hon. John S. Rhea Speaks Here.

Hon. John S. Rhea, candidate for the democratic nomination for Congress, who is spending a part of the week campaigning in this county, addressed a large audience at the court house Tuesday night. He was introduced by Mr. H. O. Meredith, and was enthusiastically greeted. His speech was forceful and effective, and was frequently broken by hearty applause. John Rhea has a wide circle of friends and admirers in this county, where for a quarter of a century he has appeared frequently as a lawyer, candidate, attorney, speaker, and he will receive the support of a large number of people.

The Democratic primary will be held Saturday, August 3. It is likely that a heavy vote will be polled in this district, as the race for the Congressional nomination is attracting much attention.

Mr. Chas. Mann was here from Russellville a few days this week, and was shaking hands with old friends.

Up On Embezzlement Charge.

Paul Pannell, rural route mail carrier here was presented before United States Commissioner Alvin H. Clark at Hopkinsville last Saturday morning on charges of embezzling money accepted for the issuance of money orders, also for irregularities in the handling of the mail. Complaints had been lodged with the department, and for some time Deputy Marshal C. F. Nichols and Inspector W. A. Gueman, Jr., had been conducting an investigation. He waived an examining trial, and was released on a bond of $500, appearance to be made before the U. S. Court on November 26. The whole affair is one that has caused the deepest regret, and the young man has the sympathy and support of his many friends. While the case appears to be a most serious one, it is thought there will be exercised the greatest leniency.

"THE ROAD OF COMFORT"

To the Democrats of Muhlenberg County:

We believe the present policy and purpose of the great Railroad Magistrates of this nation to be inimical to the well-being of the great mass of our people; and that it is impossible for any one man to honestly represent these two conflicting interests at any time or place. We therefore view with alarm the attitude of our Representative in Congress, Hon. R. V. Thomas, Jr., in accepting Regular Employment as a Regular Attorney for the Illinois Central Railroad Company during the time he has held his position from the Plain People as their Congressman. He can not be faithful to these two Antagonistic Trusts. "No man can serve two masters, he will either hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other."

During the three years Mr. Thomas has been in Congress, he has had for his Private Secretary a man who votes the Republican ticket about as often as he votes the Democratic ticket. Moreover, this Secretary (?) has received annually Fifteen Hundred Dollars ($1,500.00) from the Peoples Treasury, and has never been in Washington and has never earned one penny of this money. All of this we must condemn.

We do not believe that Mr. Thomas is in sympathy with the rank and file of Democracy, or that he depends upon their support for the nomination; but, that he depends almost entirely upon the ability, etc., of his secretary and general manager—the "Machine Boss"—the sometimes Democrat and sometimes Republican—the All-the-Time "Boodle Dispenser"—to take his "Barrel" and purchase his nomination for him.

For these reasons, as well as many others which are well known in this county, we cannot support Mr. Thomas in his race for the nomination; but will do everything honorable within our power to procure the nomination for that Planned Knight of Democracy, the Hon. JOHN S. RHEA. If we succeed, which is now almost certain, we will take from the halls of Congress a Regular Railroad Attorney and put in his place a True and Trusted Friend of the Plain People.

We will destroy "Bossism" in Muhlenberg county and thereby make it possible for every Democrat to be heard in the councils of the party, and allow you and your boys to run for office without first submitting your claims to this Self-constituted "Boss".

We will fight for these principles unto the end, and we call upon every Democrat who has the welfare of his party and country at heart, and who has enough county pride to want his home freed from these vices, to assist us in digging the political graves of this "Boss" and this Wolf in Sheep's Clothing.

Respectfully submitted, by order of the John S. Rhea and Anti-Boss Democratic Committee of Muhlenberg County, Ky.:

LEO FENTRESS, Secty.

W. L. WHITSON, Chmn.

This Address has been signed by more than 300 representative Democrats of Central City and Muhlenberg county.

MAKES APPEAL TO THE EYE

Appropriate Garnishing of Dishes Is of More Importance Than Is Generally Realized.

When one serves cold slices of meat the platter looks very attractive if a few thin leaves of lettuce or strips of parsley are placed here and there among the slices. When I serve steak I often put a few stuffed olives and a sprig of parsley on the platter. Baked potatoes look much nicer taken from the shell, mashed with butter, pepper and salt, a well-beaten yolk of an egg, then place back in the half shells and brown in the oven. They not only look nicer, but taste better. In serving lettuce, carefully wash the full head, then place larger leaves around outside of a round dish, then smaller leaves inside, and so on until you have the perfect head. Serve at table instead of placing a plate of lettuce at each service. Celery washed and put in ice cold water, drained and filled with cream cheese and a little cranberry jelly is very nice and a little different. If you have baked macaroni and cheese, bake on shells instead of a large dish, serve to each a shell. Large clams are good, or use ramskins if you have them. I think food tastes better in small quantities and served daintily. Lamb chops with a curl of bacon are very nice and a little different. When you serve fish balls drain first on brown paper and then tuck into a napkin. Keep them hot, and if there should be any more fat cling to them the napkin absorbs it and they are very dainty. When you make apple celery and nut salad again, instead of paring the apples, scoop them out and then fill shells with salad. Place apple on leaves of lettuce and serve. Bake apples and when cool fill the center with any jelly you prefer, pour over some of the strain apples were baked in, pile whipped cream on top—very delicious.—Houston Globe.

Delicious Simply Prepared Confection That May Be New to Some of Our Readers.

Dark Part—One cup sugar, one cup milk, one cup butter and lard mixed; one teaspoon ginger, one teaspoon of cinnamon, one-half teaspoon cloves, one teaspoon baking soda, one-half teaspoon baking powder, three-quarters cup of water, one teaspoon of nutmeg; flour enough to make a stiff dough. Work on board for five minutes.

Light Part—Two cups sugar, one cup butter and lard mixed, one-half teaspoon nutmeg, one and one-half teaspoons baking powder, one cup water; flour enough to make stiff dough. Work on board four or five minutes. Now cut each part in four pieces, roll out dark pieces first about a foot long and six inches wide; lay aside and roll out white part the same; lay on the dark part, then roll up both together from each end till the rolls meet in the middle; then lay them in a cold place until next day. Slice off with knife and bake.

For Borders.

For borders use deep, plain or scalloped pie tins with a small pan or a baking powder can placed exactly in the center. The outer space is filled and when the border is ready to serve the inside dish is taken out, the serving plate or platter laid on the pie plate and both inverted. When the pie plate is lifted there will be a ring of rice, mashed potato, jelly, or whatever was selected for the border, with an open center for the filling. For a deeper mold use a pan instead of a plate.

A quart bowl with straight sides makes a fair substitute for a Charlotte russe mold.

Oatmeal Wafers.

This recipe may be called Irish or Scotch. It is eaten in Scotland and in the province of Ulster, where the Scotch-Irish dwell. It is a body and brain builder.

One cup of oatmeal (rolled oats may also be used), one cup of sifted flour, a pinch of baking powder, a little salt, a tablespoon of sugar. Rub two tablespoons of butter into above mixture, and add just enough water to hold it together. Roll out thin on a floured board, cut round shape and bake.

Hot Water Pastry.

For years I could not make good pie crust until I saw an old country woman mix her pastry dough with hot water. Hitherto the "ice water" emphasized in every known recipe. I have since used hot water, and the crust has never failed to be tender and flaky.—Striburn Life.

Dumplings for Soup.

Sift two cups of flour, four even teaspoons baking powder and a little salt together. Mix with sweet milk about three-fourths of a cup or little less. Dip by spoonfuls into the hot soup, wetting the spoon in the soup each time before taking up dough. Steam ten minutes without taking off cover.

Fruit Cake.

Four eggs, two cups sugar, one cup molasses, one cup butter, one cup milk, one heaping teaspoon of soda, one-half pound citron, one-half pound walnuts chopped, one-half pound raisins and currants, one teaspoon each clove, cinnamon, mace and nutmeg.

Bobs.

One pint of milk, three eggs, one tablespoon of butter, a little salt, four tablespoons of flour. Bake in small plates in a quick oven.

"I am all right now, thanks to Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy."

The same relief is ready for you. Are you sure you do not need it? If Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy helped Charles Holmes, why won't it help you?

"I was troubled with heart disease, and after reading about Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy, I got a bottle. Before I got the Heart Remedy I had lost up most of the night, and felt very bad at my stomach. Whatever I would eat made me feel worse, and my heart beat very fast. But thanks to Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy, I am all right now. I eat good, sleep good, and feel like a new man, although I am about 68 years old. I have been a soldier in the late war of the rebellion, and was badly wounded." CHARLES HOLMES, Private Co. Indigestion

Stomach troubles are but a symptom of, and not a true disease. We think of dyspepsia, flatulency, and indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific nervousness, resulting from indigestion. It was the first that Dr. Shoop's Restorative, being direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that nervousness and indigestion to the surface. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such results could be accomplished. For stomach troubles, indigestion, flatulency, and all other ailments, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Tablets or liquid, and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.
